MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COM-PANY OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK—MORRIS ROBINSON, President. Having been appointed agent for the above named institution, I am prepared to receive applications for insurance on life for one or more years, or for the duration of life. The advantages of the mutual principle above the heretofore more usual joint-stock companies are so great that it is only necessary to understand the principles of its operation to give a decided preference to the mutual plan. A treatise on the subject and forms of application for insurance can be had at my store on 7th street, immediately opposite the National Intelligencer office.

Dr. Christie's Galvanic Rings and Mag- netic Fluid.

THIS remarkable invention, which has received the almost universal approbation of the medical profession of Great Britain, comprises an entirely new application of Galvanism, as a remedial agent by means of which the ordinary Galvanic Batteries, Electric and Magnetic Machines, &c. are entirely dispensed with, and the mysterious power of Galvanism applied without any of the objections which are inseparable from the general mode now in use.

The Galvanic Rings have been used with entire success in all cases of rheumatism, acute or chronic, applying to the head, face, or limbs; gout, tic-doloreux, toothache, bronchitis, vertigo, nervous or sick headache, indigestion, paralysis, palsy, epilepsy, fits, cramp, palpitation of the heart, apoplexy, stiffness of the joints, spinal complaints, lumbago, neuralgia, nervous tremors, dizziness of the head, pains in the chest and side, general debility, deficiency of nervous and physical energy, and all nervous disorders.
In cases of confirmed dyspepsia, which is simply a nervous derangement of the digestive organs, they have been found equally successful. Their extraordinary effects upon the system must be witnessed to be believed, and as a certain preventive for the preceding complaints they are equally recommended.
The rings are of different prices, being made of all sizes, and of various ornamental patterns, and can be worn by the most delicate female without the slightest inconvenience. In fact, the sensation is rather agreeable than otherwise.

THE GALVANIC BELTS, BRACELETS, BANDS, GAR-TERS, NECKLACES, &c. &c.—These articles are adapted to the waist, arms, wrists, limbs, ankles, or any part of the body with perfect convenience. The Galvanic Necklaces are used with greater benefit in cases of bronchitis or affections of the throat generally; also, in cases of nervous deafness; and with almost uniform success as a preventive for apoplexy, epileptic fits, and similar complaints.

Christie's Magnetic Fluid is used in connexion with the Galvanic Rings, and all their modifications.
This composition has been pronounced by the French Chemists to be one of the most extraordinary discoveries of modern science. Full explanations and directions accompany it. The combined inventions are in every way perfectly harmless; they are at prices within reach of all, and the discoverer only requests a fair trial, as a test of their surprising efficacy and permanent benefit.

CHRISTIE'S GALVANIC STRENGTHENING PLAS-TERS.—These articles form another valuable application of the mysterious influence of Galvanism. They are an important adjunct to the genuine Galvanic Rings and their modifications, acting upon the same principle, but having the advantage of more local application. They are confidently recommended as a valuable addition in the speedy cure of rheumatism, acute or chronic; in all nervous complaints, and as a positive remedy in cases of pain and weakness in the chest or back, pain in the side, in asthmatic affections, and in weakness or oppression of the pulmonary organs. In spinal complaints their effects are of the most decided character, and they have often been used with complete success. They are also of the greatest advantage in pains and weakness of the breast, and are highly recommended for many of those complaints to which females are especially liable. As an effectual means for strengthening the system when debilitated with disease and other causes, as a certain aid in constitutional weakness, as a preventive for colds, and in all affections of the chest generally, the Galvanic Strengthening Plasters will be found of great and permanent advantage.

CAUTION. The celebrity and success of these articles have caused them to be counterfeited by unprincipled persons. Dr. Christie cautions the public against spurious imitations. He has but one authorized agency in each city of the Union, where the genuine articles can be procured. The only agents for Washington are—

M. H. STEVENS & EMMONS, Nos. 1 and 2 Brown's Hotel, Penn. Avenue.
Explanatory pamphlets, &c. may be had gratis, with the strongest testimonials of success and benefit.

POETRY.

Its words
Are few, but deep and solemn, and they break Fresh from the fount of feeling.—Percival.

ECONOMY.

Economy's a very useful broom, Yet should not ceaseless hunt about the room To catch each straggling pin to make a plumb;
Too oft economy's an iron vice,
That squeezes e'en the little guts of mice, That peep with fearful eyes and ask a crumb.

Proper economy's a comely thing;
Good in a subject—better in a king; Yet, push'd too far, it dulls each finer feeling—

Most easily inclin'd to make folks mean; Inclines them, too, to villany to lean,
To overreaching, perjury, and stealing.
E'en when the heart should only think of grief It creeps into the bosom like a thief;
And swallows up th' affections, all so mild—Witness the Jewess, and her only child.

Poor Mistress Levi had a luckless son, Who, rushing to obtain the foremost seat, In imitation of th' ambitious great,
High from the gallery, ere the play begun, He fell all plump into the pit, Dead in a minute as a nit;
In short, he broke his pretty Hebrew neck, Indeed, and very dreadful was the wreck!

The mother was distracted, raving, wild—Shriek'd, tore her hair, embraced and kissed her child;

Afflicted every heart with grief around;
Soon as the shower of tears was somewhat past,

And moderated calm th' hysterical blast, She cast about her eyes in thought profound,
And being with a saving knowledge bless'd, She thus the play house manager addressed:

'Sher, I am de moder, of de poor Chew lad, Dat meet misfortune here so bad; Sher, I must haf de shilling back, you know, Ass Moses haf nat see de show.'

Written for Scott's Phil. Weekly Paper.

LINES ON THE DEATH OF A SISTER.

In dawn of life, she wisely sought her God,
And the straight path of thorny virtue trod, Fond to oblige, too gentle to offend; Beloved by all, to all the good a friend.
The bad she censured by her life alone; Blind to their faults, severe upon her own.
In others' griefs a tender part she bore,
And with the needy shar'd her little store:
At distance view'd the world with pious dread,
And to God's temple for perfection fled, There sought that peace which Heav'n alone can give,
And learn'd to die as others learn'd to live.
EMILY.

A TALE OF TRUTH.

BY JEANNE.

(Concluded.)

When the consciousness of the drunkard again returned, he found himself in a comfortable chamber, decently dressed, and his benefactor stood at his side. No word of censure or rebuke fell from the lips of the excellent man; as he stood contemplating the change a few hours had made in the being before him, but he gently said, 'My son, I found you in trouble, and have been happy in offering you a temporary shelter, you are now entirely recovered, and I will send you to your friends or home.'

Only a look of wild anguish replied to his kind offer, and again he said mildly, 'My son, I pity you; and it may be I can aid you, at any rate tell me your name and your story without fear.'

Oh! how these words fell upon the ears of the stranger, the tones of the good old man's voice awaking in his heart the same feelings which the blessed glances of the stars had aroused there when he struggled with himself, alone and wretched. Tears streamed down his drunken cheek, as he informed his host that he was a foreigner with neither friends nor home.

'My name,' said he, 'is Leslie, and sir, I have tried to shake off my fetters, to be a man once more, but no one will employ a drunkard. I am a hopeless wretch, and only wish to die unknown. God bless you, sir, for your kindness, it quite overcomes me; but I hope for nothing but a grave.'

The old man looked distressed and sorrowful, and hardly knew what to do to arouse in Leslie less discouraging feelings, but at length approached him in a solemn and tender voice, he said,

'Harry Leslie, have you a wife or child?'

'Sir?' exclaimed the inebriate.

'I say Leslie, have you wife or child?'

'Oh my God!' groaned he, conscience-smitten, why did I ever leave them. Margaret! my own true wife, my golden haired Kitty, my wee Willie, and he covered his face with his hands.

'For golden haired Kitty, and wee Willie, and your anxious wife—'

'Oh sir!' exclaimed Leslie wildly, never must they know aught of my wretchedness, and degradation. Better far that they should weep a father and husband dead, than mourn him a living disgrace.'

'Leslie do you still love that wife, those children?'

'Love them? God knows.'

'Then struggle and restore to them and to yourself happiness—I believe firmly, that you may be reclaimed. Tell me when you last heard from your family?'

'It is a year, a long year,' and the poor man groaned.

'And you have neglected a beautiful wife, your fair haired children; you have given them sorrow and loneliness, and anxious watchings. But I seek not the augmentation of repentant tears, my young friend; if you desire to restore them and yourself to all the happiness of former years, I will assist you.'

'How?'

'I will give you employment, you shall sign the pledge and keep yourself out of the way of temptation; at the end of the year you shall return to your own. Think Leslie, yesterday you were a—'

'Brute,' ejaculated the reformed, as he fell upon his knees and hailed the old man as his father—his deliverer.

'My son,' said Mr. Marsh, 'I, mastering his own deep emotion. I leave you now to your own reflections, pray that you be not led into temptation,' and he left him alone.

The plans of the good merchant were speedily arranged. He would employ Leslie one year, and allow him to board in his own family, thus giving him the blessing of a home. Mrs. M. entered heartily into her husband's plans, and our wanderer began a new life with a heart swelling with gratitude and repentance, with courage and hope. The thought of his distant home, and the heart treasures it contained, cheered him in his hours of labor, and when evening came he found by the quiet fireside of his employer, comfort and peace.— Oh how he longed to send over the waters one native, full of the blessings of his affection, and longings for forgiveness!— But his benefactor had advised him to wait until the time of his trial was past, and he should be confident of success; should be certain that his reform was thorough and complete. Leslie felt the justice of his friend's remark, and was satisfied to know that ere another summer, golden haired Kitty and wee Willy would come to dwell with him in an American home.

The year of Harry Leslie's trial is past, and he is taking his leave of the good pair whose kindness had been his salvation.

'Harry, said the old man, I have just arranged a little affair which you must consent to. You know my business will depend principally upon you next year, and I have a house not far from the store which you shall have rent free, if you accept it.
I am going down to the wharf with you, and as we shall pass, you must step in and look at it—and then you can tell Margaret just what kind of a place you are coming to.'

Harry's heart was too full for words, and wringing the old lady's hand he quitted the house which he had learned to love so dearly, and with a feeling of sadness directed his footsteps towards the place of em-barcation.

'Harry, said Mr. Marshall, here, here is the place,' and they entered.

It was a pleasant and comfortable dwelling, and a tidy servant issued them into the parlor. Harry looked around him. Surely that was his own portrait that adorned the wall, the door opened—his own dear Margaret, wee Willy and golden haired Kitty were in his arms!
